WAR BREAKS OUT.

Contingencies Provided FOR In International Law.

WHAT IS CONTRABAND OF WAR.

The Matter of Privateering--Seizures at Sea--Coaling Naval Ships--Our Previous War Experiences.

Hostilities Usually Begin Without Formal Declaration of War.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—[Special.]—War is a great game. Fully one of all nations. Most of the wars of history have been without a previous formal declaration of war. In the present crisis the United States has formally declared war only once, and that was against Great Britain in 1812. Allotted or inferential declaration against France was made in 1796, when that country was harassing our commerce and levying unjust duties upon our ships in our ports. But after congress had authorized the president to equip an emergency army the evils complained of were allayed, and no hostilities followed.

The War of 1812. In 1812 the agreement between Britain had become intolerable, and after a prolonged and bitter debate, congress, on the 18th of June, passed an act declaring war. There was opposition in both houses. The Mexican war began without any formal declaration, as of course did, the war between the states. This war was actually in progress from March 30, 1861, but the first congressional recognition of it was in May, when the two houses passed a law authorizing the president to give safe conduct out of port to any vessels of the enemy which may chance to visit these shores. This implies recognition of war which comes through formal declaration and is based wholly upon justice and humanity. If a naval vessel of Spain were in New York harbor, for instance, it would be the duty of our government to give her safe escort out to sea, because she had come into the harbor upon a friendly mission and should not be trapped and destroyed in a barbaric manner simply because she was in this country when war broke out.

Our Experience With Spain. It is a rather strange circumstance that the only war with a European power in which the United States has been engaged was with Great Britain, our neighbor and country, and now the nation which we are least likely to have trouble with. We were dangerously near to war with France 100 years ago, but the war did not exist, for in February, 1797, the French frigate L'Insurgente captured the American schooner Retaliation, which was in turn herself captured by the United States frigate Constitution, "Old Ironsides." Later on the Constitution had an engagement with another French frigate of 50 guns, and, though the Americans had 30 guns, the Frenchman struck his colors after a loss of 160 men, killed and wounded. In the night, however, the Frenchman escaped. Though there was no declaration of war on the part of the United States or France, captures were made and prisoners exchanged. Yet no national war followed, and there were only collisions of any seriousness between the naval powers of the two nations.

The surprise of the United States has held that war does not exist until there is a formal declaration of war by one of the parties. It is merely supposed the remedy for their recovery. Interest money. Partisanship is supposed to be a contract, which may be resumed in peace. In war all the intercourse between citizens of one nation with citizens of another is illegal unless sanctioned by the rights of humanity.

Every nation at war with another is justified by international law in confiscating or destroying as it chooses all movable property of the enemy of any kind or nature whatsoever wherever found. Whether conditions to the support of either belligerent may be exacted, either upon land or water.

Seizure of Goods at Sea. Seizure of goods at sea, when carried in neutral ships, is a source of endless trouble to nations during war. It is the duty of the government to protect its citizens from such seizures. The general principle is that goods intended, directly or indirectly, for the enemy's support may be seized. But contraband trade is not in articles consumed of war may be done in neutral blockade, and allied blockade must be something more than a mere paper blockade. It must consist of actual blockade of the ports of the enemy by means of warships.

An important point is as to supplying the needs of the nation in case of war.

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

In the Senate.

Washington, March 29.—In the senate, Mr. Foraker and Fry introduced resolutions to recognize Cuban independence and Mr. Watkins (Utah) offered one declaring war against Spain. Seventy-four private pension bills passed.

Washington, March 30.—Three resolutions were introduced recognizing Cuban independence and urging international law, and one declaring war against Spain. Seventy-four private pension bills passed.

Washington, April 1.—A Cuban debate was precipitated by Mr. Fry making an apparently simple request on behalf of the foreign relations committee. Thirty-five pages of the sundry civil appropriation bill were discussed.

Washington, April 2.—Secretary of state requested to send Cuban consular correspondence to senate.—Resolution adopted inquiring about protection of seacoast cities of Georgia.

In the House.

Washington, March 30.—Private bills considered.—No vote reached on bill to pay for provisions and stores furnished by loyal people of the south during the rebellion.

Washington, April 1.—During Cuban debate Mr. Grosvenor declared the administration from the president down to be free Cuba, and would back it with force if necessary.

Washington, April 2.—Decided to build 24 instead of 13 torpedo boats.—Refused to reduce number of warships or price of armor plate.

Prayers Ordered For Spaniards.

Madrid, April 4.—From all the pulpits in Madrid the priests read a letter from the bishop of the diocese announcing that he considered war to be imminent, and ordering prayers for the success of the Spanish arms.

Baby Rescued the Cow.

Muncie, Ind., April 4.—Mrs. James being was attacked by a vicious cow and probably fatally injured. The woman's year-old daughter drove the vicious bovine away by throwing hot water over her.

Held To Headlines.

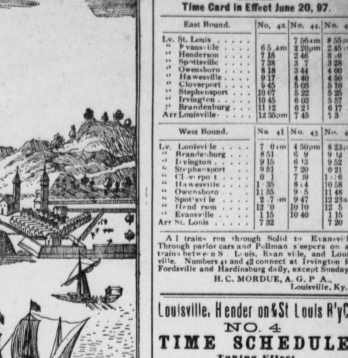

Springfield, Ill., April 4.—Governor Tanner has been asked by the war department to take them back to Spain, but not for the purpose of continuing their offensive movements against the United States. All such questions come under the rule which forbids belligerent ships to use ports as a base of operations.

They may run into neutral ports in stress of weather or for minor purposes or to get provisions and fuel with which to replenish, but not to carry on their campaign against the enemy. WALTER WILLIAMS.

The Branch Railroad the Victim of A Deplorable Accident

Five Cars Loaded With Ties Ditched, Eighty Yards of Track Torn Up.

Thomas Chandler, Brakeman, Crushed to Death and Lee Montgomery, Brakeman, Badly Bruised.

CONDUCTOR TILFORD ESCAPES

Last Sunday morning at 9:10 o'clock there were five cars ditched on the Branch railroad with the loss of one life. The train consisted of six cars loaded with ties, and one baggage car from Fordville to Irvington. It was an extra, and the following crew had the train in charge: Jerry Telford, conductor; James Buckley, engineer; Ross H. Hawkins, fireman; and two brakemen, Thomas Chandler and Lee Montgomery. The wreck occurred within four miles of Irvington and a short distance from the sinking creek bridge on the west end. Engineer Buckley says they were going at a speed of 12 to 16 miles an hour, and he noticed the breaking down of the car and stopped the engine about 100 yards from the wreck. Conductor Telford was on the third or fourth car and ran to the baggage car. Lee Montgomery, the rear brakeman, was thrown from the car and was slightly bruised. Thomas Chandler, the head brakeman was on the second car, this is the one the trucks left and went to the left side of the road. It is believed that Mr. Chandler misjudged the side to jump, thinking probably the cars would evidently go with the trucks, but he went to the right side and was caught across the shoulders by the second car. The action crew was immediately on hand clearing away what debris they could and the removing of the car from the lifeless body of the brakeman, could not be accomplished until the arrival of the wrecking train, which arrived at the wreck about twelve o'clock. The cause of the accident cannot be ascertained and one that cannot be attributed to the negligence of the officials of the road or the employees. Mr. Montgomery was removed to the home of Mrs. Bennett, where medical aid was tendered by Drs. Coleman, of Irvington, and Watkins, surgeon of the road.

Mr. Thomas Chandler, the unfortunate brakeman, when removed from under the car, had on his person $235 in money. His watch was smashed and stopped exactly at the hour of 9 o'clock and ten minutes. He was then taken to Irvington and put in the hands of the undertakers, Jolly and McClintock, who prepared him for shipment. The road did their part most nobly in putting him away in a handsome casket. He was sent to Louisville that evening.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.
We cannot find that there was any negligence by any member of the train crew, and find that the wreck was an unavoidable accident. Those who composed the jury were, C. C. Smith, B. Herndon, John W. Dent, John F. Meador, Bion Jolly, Sam Kasey, James W. Adams.

THOMAS CHANDLER.
He was in the prime of life, 32 years of age and married. He had been an employee of the "Texaco" in various capacities for several years. His friends were legion and he was a man thoroughly versed in his business.
Mr. Chandler was the son of Rev. James C. Chandler, minister of the M. E. church, who now has a pastorage at Elkton, Todd county, Ky.
He was a member of the Masonic lodge and Royal Arch Masons of this city. He also carried insurance to the extent of $1,000 or $2,500 in the order of Railway Conductors, Monon division number 89 in Louisville. Messrs. Geo. Alken, J. P. Miller, Sam Stiles and J. G. Bradshaw were appointed as a committee to take charge of his remains. Mr. Chandler was a fine specimen of physical manhood and his death will be regretted by all his fellow associates.

NOTES.
It was a gloomy day around Irvington. There were nearly 200 people present at the scene of the wreck.
Kindling wood will be made of the cars.
Col. Ridley Berry understands the art of clearing a wreck, better than any one in this county.
The trains will make there usual trip.
John P. Miller will run as brakeman.
Conductor Jerry Telford was almost sick from the happening, but his friends were ready to sympathize with him. He is taking the matter seriously while the officials of the road do not care him for the fatal accident.

THE TIME OF RENEWAL.

All nature is renewed in the springtime. The sky takes on a fresher color, the trees don their green robes, and the earth is a new scene. Easter garments, every thing seems glad and happy, seems a pity that such a beautiful season so disagreeable a malady as the so-called "spring fever" should until a great many people to enter the unseasoned sunshine and freshness that prevails. What is spring fever? It is that sluggishness and irritability which everyone takes a spring tonic. "What blood young people call a great deal of 'blood medicine' is laid in the spring of the year. The blood, the liver, the health must be renewed, with the trees and flowers and grass. The principal difficulty is, which of the numerous spring tonics is the best? Which will cure permanently and remove quickly all the disagreeable symptoms? Read what Mr. Adina Adams, Clinton, Ky., says of Peruna. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can't speak too highly of it."

A book containing several hundred letters similar to the one from which this is an extract, will be sent free to any address by the Per-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus Ohio.

NOT ALWAYS UNDERSTOOD

A fact often overlooked, or not often understood, is that women suffer as much from distressing kidney and bladder trouble as men. The womb is situated back and very close to the bladder, and for that reason any distention, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble. Some sort of relief is easily made and can be as easily achieved by setting right acids for twenty-four hours: a sediment or settling is effected that your kidney and bladder need doctoring. If you have pain or dull aching in the back, pass water too frequently, or scanty supply, with smarting or burning—these are also convincing proof of kidney trouble. If you have noticed without being told, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the great kidney remedy. The mild and extraordinary effect will surprise you. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures. If you take a medicine you should take the best. At drug stores fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail upon receipt of three two-cent stamps to cover cost of postage on the bottle. Mention the Breckenridge News and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

I regret to know that the old friend of C. C. Byers has made an assignment.

Mr. Byers was a man of fine honor, good judgment and whole-souled with it all he had been in failing health for several years and unable to give the business his personal attention.

The News last week stepped up another round. I met Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Dittie on the street and they said:

"We are taking the News again, we could not do without it, for it grows better every issue." By the way, why don't Mr. Dittie write occasionally for the News? He is a man of varied information and a ready pen. We all enjoyed his article on the "Wondering Boy."

It touched every mother's heart, I'm sure.

Brother Henson has employed Mr. H. J. Fowler and J. H. Blackman, Meade county men as traveling solicitors for the Lucile Ophans' Home. They are on the road and will canvass the country.

Mr. M. Jolly and wife and Mrs. R. B. McElhannon are home from their trip to the christening of the battleship, to New York and Washington. They speak of the entire trip as delightful.

There will be no Easter services at the Methodist church, as was anticipated and announced, owing to the absence of the organist. We regret this exceedingly, but hope to make full amends by a Children's Day service in May.

Much sadness is expressed at the sad and sudden death of Mr. Chandler, which occurred Sunday in work in the Hardinsburg branch. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank and Baxter, Mrs. B. M. and Mr. Coleman, Mr. Jolly and little Clara, all went to Guston Sunday to hear Mr. Grant's last sermon. He has resigned the pastorate of the Guston church to take charge of one in Louisville.

Mr. Hayes has severed his connection with the school at this place, on account of ill health. Mr. Dugan will fill out the term.

The "New Science" Treatment has been an unqualified success and the people generally are much pleased and surprised at the results.

Mr. Grant has given up his charge at this place. Mr. Grant was loved by all who knew him. He is a valiant worker and the people of Guston regret very much to give him up.

Don't Invite Sickness

Which is better, to thoroughly cleanse and purify the blood now, or make yourself liable to the many dangerous ailments which are so prevalent during summer? Impurities have been accumulating in the blood all winter, and right now is the time to get rid of them. A thorough course of Swift's Blood is needed to cleanse the blood and purify the system, toning up and strengthening it all over. Those who take this precaution now are comparatively safe all summer; but to neglect it is to invite some form of sickness which is so common during the trying hot season.

America's Greatest Medicine

The following is a characteristic Hood's Sarsaparilla testimonial. Facts like these have made Hood's Sarsaparilla America's Greatest Medicine and endeared it to thousands of homes scattered all over this broad land.

very sick and for several days it seemed as if he would never be any better. After a while he began to improve and in a few weeks was able to go out, although weak and miserable. Then, gradually

All Strength in His Limbs gave out. The physicians told us it was paralysis, which sometimes follows an attack of diphtheria. We did everything for him, but he grew worse until he was in a pitiful condition. He suffered terribly at night and complained continually of his head, and in what little sleep he was able to get, moaned uneasily. He lost all control of the muscles of his body and limbs. He had no appetite and complained of feeling sick at his stomach all the time. After we had tried many different remedies and had about given up all hope, we commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time he began to complain, his appetite improved and at the end of three months he was able to attend school a part of the time. Now he is well and quite a strong and rugged boy. We are at liberty to use this testimonial,

"We like to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for us. Our four children had diphtheria. From the very first our little boy Ralph, then seven years old, was as well as the towns and will solicit provisions, clothing and money in this and adjoining counties. One will go to Kentucky—county money is ready to aid. The Home is getting along very nicely.

Actively in local military circles is in evidence everywhere since the startling war news. Our Kentucky boys of the Legion are ready for the front in twenty-four hour notice. If I had been a man I would have been a military one. My grandfather on the maternal side was a naval officer in the Revolutionary days. Several of my near relatives have been West-Pointers and Annapolis graduates, so I inherit the military spirit, the uniform, the buttons, the sword, the equipment inspires me and I would like to have a boy of mine to go with Col. Castleman and the Legion to help chastise the Spaniards soundly, if it has to be.

I was truly sorry to know that Senator Blackburn was seriously ill and it came about partly from his courtesy and chivalry to a lady—just like him exactly. You can say what you please about his being fastidious and erratic but when it comes to a chivalrous Southern gentleman, Senator Blackburn is a knight not knighted as he would have been had Cervantes been contemporary with him and his noble and its characters and the Kentucky Senator might have fought wild mills as persistently as he has to the whelp, but he has been, I think, as honest and as sincere in the adoption of his theory as those of a different standard and with that warm Southern blood in his veins naturally he was intense in his views, anyhow, we all feel only sympathy and regret at his illness and hope for speedy recovery.

We agree with Preston in Meade Messenger, partly in her views in regard to girls leaving the home shelter as good winners. But where a girl has talent, inclinations to carry out his theory as those of a different standard and with that warm Southern blood in his veins naturally he was intense in his views, anyhow, we all feel only sympathy and regret at his illness and hope for speedy recovery.
